What is a Protection from Abuse Order (PFA)?

A PFA is an order from the court that protects you and your children from your abuser. It is a civil order that you can request on your own behalf against a family or household member who is abusing you. Under the law, abuse is considered:

- Bodily injury or rape. Criminal charges do not need to be filed.
- Reasonable fear of imminent serious bodily injury.
- False imprisonment, including being kept or held for a short period of time or being grabbed by the arms and not allowed to move or leave.
- Child abuse.
- Stalking, including being followed or watched at home or at work, and/or being sent unwanted letters, gifts, email or telephone calls.
